

Canons are separated by which words they use for Jesus, not how often

Correspondence analysis of the vocabulary that triggered each coded verse. Crosses are categories, dots are canons; a canon sits near the vocabulary it relies on. The Hebrew Bible and the Islamic corpora sit far out, so the Christian cluster is drawn again on the right. First two dimensions carry 73% of inertia.

The whole map

The Christian corner, enlarged

● Christianity ● Christianity (Latter-day Saint) ● Islam ● Judaism