

Much of the hadith 'Jesus' signal is about Christians, not about Jesus

Percent of reports coded, with and without the derived category -- the word 'Christian' or 'Nasara' rather than a name or title of Jesus. Broad coding folds a reference to a community into a reference to a person, and that should be a stated choice rather than a silent one.

